You will receive the promises of God through faith and patience in the same way the farmer receives his crops. First you must plant the Word of God into your situation. Then you tend to those crops. Faith and Patience: Inheriting the Promises of God ...
The promise we can lean on is that patience is God-given restraint, not something we are to produce in our own strength. The Lord is the one who provides us with spiritual armor to go into battle. Our only responsibility is to trust that God will provide the strength to hold on, and then act accordingly to our faith in that promise.

Practicing Patience When God Has You Waiting
So our patience toward God stems from our faith in him. One of the descriptions of patience in the Bible says, “Here is the patience of the saints... those who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus” (Revelation 14:12). In faith and hope we “by perseverance in doing good seek for glory and honor and immortality –eternal life” (Romans 2:7). This is the nature of our patience toward God. 1 We are Believers

The need for God’s gift of patience in a right now world ...
Patience with God is perhaps our greatest faith struggle. God, it would seem, is never in a hurry and because of that we live with an impatience that can test the strongest faith and the stoutest heart. Life, as we can all attest to, is not without its bitter frustrations and crushing heartaches.

Patience With God | Ron Rolheiser
In the household of faith, patience, often that rarest of virtues, becomes a test of authenticity and a necessity for the right ordering of the home, the church, and Christian fellowship. That said, the church must obey the command of God and seek to demonstrate authentic Christian patience—and fast.

Patience is Not Optional for the Christian

By R. Herbert. Patience with others is Love, Patience with self is Hope, Patience with God is Faith. T he quotation above from the Egyptian Christian scholar, lawyer, and teacher Adel Bestavros (1924 – 2005) conveys a timeless truth – or three truths – that we also find in the writings of the apostle Paul. Paul speaks of patience more than any other New Testament writer – in fact, more than all other New Testament writers together.

PATIENCE IS - livingwithfaith.org - Living with faith
Faith is developed by the word of God and patience is developed through the testing of our faith. Sometimes things are going to happen that seem like direct opposites of what we prayed for, even when we prayed in faith. We must learn that we are not being testing, but rather our faith is. Faith, when tested, develops patience.

Faith and Patience - Today's Word with Rick Pina
Frank sees Patience With God as a conversation about faith, a meeting place for those dissatisfied with fundamentalist answers, and a search for a spiritual path that matches reality -- a path where paradox is honored and where faith and doubt coexist. It is an invitation into what Frank calls the Church of Hopeful Uncertainty.

Frank Schaeffer has a problem with Dawkins, Hitchens, Harris, Dennett, and the rest of the New Atheists - the self-anointed ‘Brights.’ He also has a problem with the Rick Warrens and Tim LaHayes of the world. The problem is that he doesn't see much of a difference between the two camps. As Schaeffer puts it, they ‘often share the same fallacy: truth claims that reek of false certainties. I believe that there is an alternative that actually matches the way life is lived rather than how we usually talk about belief.’ Sparing no one and nothing, including himself and his fiery evangelical past, and invoking subtleties too easily ignored by the pontificators, Schaeffer adds much-needed nuance to the conversation. ‘My writing has smoked out so many individuals who seem to be thinking about the same questions. I hope that this book will provide a meeting place for us, the scattered refugees of what I’ll call The Church of Hopeful Uncertainty.’

For all the debate about belief and nonbelief in today’s world—and how everyone becomes pigeonholed by one or the other—Tomáš Halík teaches that God requires us to persevere with our doubts, carry them in our hearts, and allow them to lead us to maturity. For Halík, patience is the main difference between faith and atheism. Faith, hope, and love are three aspects of patience in the face of God’s silence, which is interpreted as “the death of God” by atheists and is not taken seriously enough by fundamentalists. Using the gospel story of Jesus’s encounter with Zacchaeus, Halík issues an invitation to all people who stand (like Zacchaeus did) on the sideline—curious but noncommittal. The fact that Jesus gravitated to the poor and the marginalized means that he also has a special place in his heart for diligent seekers on the margins of the community of believers.

In a lively discussion of faith, a leading religious thinker uses the Gospel story of Jesus’s encounter with Zacchaeus to address the pervasive doubts about faith in today’s world.

It has been said that there can be no true faith where the will of God is hidden. Likewise, there can be no true faith where patience has not been demonstrated. Have you ever wondered what factors were at work during the time between Abraham’s promise and the provision? Have you ever considered why 25 years passed before Abraham received a promise that God gave him the faith to receive? The God of Patience explores the power of patience in establishing sonship in the life of Abraham. By examining the principle of patience, and its relationship to faith, The God Of Patience guides the reader into God’s heart and mind as he constructs the character and trust of the man who would become the prototype known as the “Father of Faith.” As you delve into the truths of The God of Patience, experience the battles, victories, defeats and ultimate triumph Abraham wins as aligned with the purpose, plans and pace of The Almighty! Dexter Velverton is Founder/President of Strong Arm Ministries, a nonprofit initiative with an evangelistic mandate to empower individuals, communities and its constituent’s spiritual, mental and physical well being through sound biblical, economic and health education. He is sought for his gift of teaching and exhortation. He speaks at various workshops and conferences as well as serves on local boards and advisory commissions. As a Christian, Dexter’s passion is to encourage and empower people to rely on and rest in the sovereign rule of God and the finished work of Jesus Christ.

By the time he was nineteen, Frank Schaeffer’s parents, Francis and Edith Schaeffer, had achieved global fame as bestselling evangelical authors and speakers, and Frank had joined his father on the evangelical circuit. He would go on to speak before thousands in arenas around America, publish his own evangelical bestseller, and work with such figures as Pat Robertson, Jerry Falwell, and Dr. James Dobson. But all the while Schaeffer felt increasingly alienated, precipitating a crisis of faith that would ultimately lead to his departure—even if it meant losing everything. With honesty, empathy, and humor, Schaeffer delivers “a brave and important book” (Andre Dubus III, author of House of Sand and Fog)—both a fascinating insider’s look at the American evangelical movement and a deeply affecting personal odyssey of faith.

The World Moves At The Speed of Me, but God’s Timing is Always Perfect In the first of her Living Large for God series, Susan Lee addresses the challenge of maintaining patience and perseverance in a world obsessed with instant gratification. With all the earthly pressure to have it all now, it seems like as soon as you set a goal, obstacles get in the way to keep you from achieving it and to try your patience toward others, the situation, and even yourself. Is it possible that God places so much emphasis on developing and demonstrating patience in the Bible because it is such an unnatural way to think in this world? Satan knows just where to strike you have set a goal. And he uses your impatience as a prime way to keep you from focusing on, and trusting God. By learning to optimistically endure difficult people and circumstances through active patience, we can avoid the penalties associated with our impatience, such as high blood pressure, stress, frustration and strained relationships. Active Patience results in less impulsive outbursts or complaints, as well as keeps us more optimistic, hopeful and productive. Susan Lee tells biblical stories of people who experienced the same struggles with patience as we do and provides practical exercises, tips and techniques for developing more patience. In addition, Living Large for God: Developing Patience and Perseverance in an Impatient World shares God’s promises to help develop a more patient spirit, even when times are troubling and challenging. Specifically, you will discover how to: Develop better relationships by finding strategies that work to cope with difficult people Reduce impulsive outbursts and complaints throughout the day Maintain hope and stay productive toward achieving your goals in God’s perfect timing Trust in God and stay optimistic during your most trying times Avoid the penalties of impatience such as high blood pressure, stress, and frustration The characteristic of patience is a gift from God and a fruit of the spirit that we can all improve on. By doing so, we will experience more peace and hope for the future. Developing Patience and Perseverance in an Impatient World: Living Large For God; is a great resource for anyone wanting to meet their goals more quickly, improve their relationships, and achieve peace of mind. “Susan Lee interweaves colorful present day and biblical examples to demonstrate our profound need to develop patience and perseverance during our brief time on earth. She doesn’t just artfully tell us the stories - she also carefully shows how we can apply principles from each story to our own lives, thereby strengthening our character and becoming stronger men and women of faith.” - Jory Fischer “Susan offers a much needed approach to experiencing peace in a chaotic world. ” - Anonymous “This book is full of insightful examples from biblical characters, Scripture verses and life applicable suggestions for success in our endeavor to be like Christ - our ultimate example of active patience!” - Tonia C. Harrison “Susan Lee takes the time and thought to help us develop a more critical view of these situations, gain the patience that we need, and links our modern problems to those faced in ancient times” - Jake Darzen

Our God doesn't call us shallow, and He knows that sometimes with a phone call, a run spotlight, a routine blood test, or a sonogram, we can be thrown into the deep end.' Through both her experiences and Scriptures, Jennifer reassures us that: 'He is there in the deep end with us.' I found this book on Bookbub, and am thrilled with what I've read. I wish every Christian would read it -especially every pastor and leader. My husband (who is a pastor) and I had already come to these conclusions before I found this book, but it gives me great hope that others are seeing the same disastrous problems. We have created a "monster" that we call "church" which little resembles the New Testament kind, and people are fleeing it. For all the promise of the "contemporary" style church, it isn't really much better. The church is failing to make disciples and failing to make any real impact in the culture, and it's all because we have failed to make authentic (true) converts. It's that simple. It's easy to make a disciple of someone who has been truly converted. Otherwise, with our usual crop of "decisions," it's like pushing a rope to get any serious commitment or Christlikeness out of them. The Bible says that Jesus is the Door, but to be brutally honest, the only way through that Door is to crawl--in repentance, submission (brokenness), and faith. We are no different than the church of the Middle Ages that baptized babies for salvation, leaving millions of people still in their sins. There isn't really any such thing as "a church for the unchurched" as many like to claim today. We should be the church of the redeemed, but we have become a church of the unsubmitive, unrepentant, unconverted, uncommitted, and unfaithful. And it all goes back to one thing--real salvation thru real repentance and real faith in Jesus Christ."-M.J. Freeman .." thought provoking book showing true believers in Jesus Christ the need to examine the methods we are using to evangelize our children... the author backs up all of her writing with scripture, the true Word of God." -Alicia Canner " ...Wow what an eye opener, it opened my eyes to the real meaning of being born again. Not only a book to help with the youth but for everyone..."-Malinda Zerosse As Christian women, there is probably nothing more heartbreaking than seeing our children turn from God. We spend thousands of dollars, and sacrifice countless hours to VBS, Bible clubs, Youth outings, Church camp, and children's parties every year. We build elaborate stage sets, plan fantastic carnivals, and youth extravaganzas and bus in all the children and teens we can find in the hopes of leading them to Christ; and yet we are still losing them. We see the grown-up children, the "fruits" of our outreaches, living as practical Atheists. They walk and talk and act like the world, even loving the world, and though they claim to be saved, evidence of life in Christ is conspicuously absent. Even our own children are abandoning the faith. They have asked Jesus into their hearts and yet we see them turn from God at staggering rates. Statistics show that no less than half have turned from God by High School age and closer to two thirds by the time they finish college. What we're doing is just not working! In Why Are We Losing the Kids? You'll see where we have gone wrong and where to go from here. - We can turn the tide on our failing ministry efforts! - We can share the gospel without creating false converts or backsliders! - We can keep the kids if we'll follow God's plan! The Bible has the answers if we're willing to hear them!

Miracles happen today. Do you want to increase your faith? Read about miracles. True stories of God’s faithfulness. Love, and power are woven together with art, poetry and scripture into a tapestry made of the colors of the rainbow that demonstrate the many aspects of faith. A woman finds herself in a car accident on a lonely Nevada highway gazing at her two daughters sprawled on the road. She screams in terror for help. Someone places a white gold cross in the palm of her hand. This changes everything. “A White Gold Cross,” one of the true stories found in “Faith Colors, Encounters with God in Living Faith,” explores the power of faith in God to transform the outcome of a terrible crisis. This story is found in the section called White Faith, the kind of faith that strengthens the inner heart to persevere. A son prays in earnest while the emergency team from the fire station try to revive his father. After the paramedics give up and permission is granted to stop CPR, the father miraculously begins to breathe on his own. But will he survive long enough to take care of his unfinished business? This story is found under Blue Faith, the kind of faith that looks up from a dark pit to find hope. These testimonies and others, including some of the author’s own experiences, are grouped into the colors of the rainbow to highlight important aspects of faith. Poems and prophetic art, intensifying the impact of the messages, are found throughout the book. Each color section concludes with a prayer to draw the reader’s heart closer to God. Scriptures and colorful prophetic pictures featured in this book highlight significant attributes of faith that are bound to spark hope in God and His promises found in the Bible.
